Edition No.4

May 2017

'Starting the shift together'

Welcome

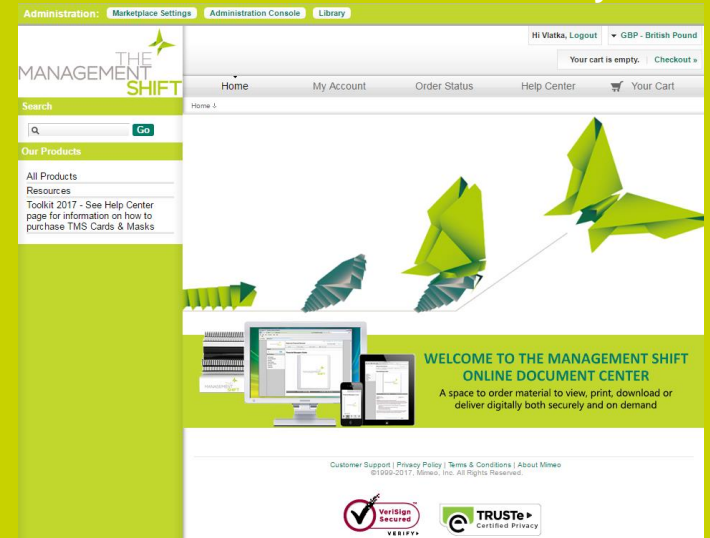

Welcome to the fourth edition of The Management Shift Newsletter!

Following The Management Shift (TMS) book launch in November 2014, more than two years later - TMS ideas were presented at over 50 keynote talks and workshops, seven awards were obtained, over 55 articles and interviews related to TMS appeared in press, thousands of people worldwide started to spread TMS ripples and over 20 000 people joined the TMS community on social media.

I am delighted with the impact of TMS ideas on the real world of business, and with the Newsletter we aim to keep TMS community informed about the latest news and developments. Thank you all for being part of this global shift to more humanised and purposeful ways of working that we aim to facilitate!

Latest news

The Management Shift book is just a tip of the iceberg!

We have now launched an online market place where anyone could purchase TMS toolkit items such as TMS board games, cards, masks, posters and handouts. The toolkit provides deep experiential learning, lots of fun, and enables TMS ripples to be spread in any organisation in the world! The Toolkit is available at:

<https://marketplace.mimeo.co.uk/themanagementshift>

In order to bring TMS to many organisations at the same time, we are now offering Accreditation Programmes for Management Consultants and Trainers. If you would like to add The Management Shift tools and processes to your consulting or executive training portfolio, please contact us on info@themanagementshift.com for further information. Any accredited user will obtain the Accredited User TMS Toolkit with over 30 items, comprehensive Training Manual with 250+ pages of material, access to TMS tools and processes and will become a part of TMS Club and a network of accredited users.

'When leaders loosen control, more creativity and a culture of care will emerge, which will lead to better productivity'
